

Nota Bene: U

U

ubiquitous: omnipresent ulterior: secret

ultimatum: one's last set of demands umbrage: resentful annoyance unalloyed: unqualified, pure undermine: to excavate beneath; to subvert, to weaken undulant: from unda meaning "wave" unfeigned: genuine, sincere unilateral: undertaken independently, although likely to have implications for others universal: a general concept (idea, form) which is predicable of many individuals universal quantifier: everything is such that ...

univocal: with a single voice untendentious: not marked by a tendency to favor a certain view upbraid: to criticize and assign blame upstage: to distract attention from ursine: bearlike

usurp: to assume forcibly and/or without right usury: excessive interest on a loan usus est magister optimus: practice makes perfect utilitarianism: the view that goodness is the quality of promoting the greatest happiness of the greatest number utopia: no place